Tantric Art of Orissa

By J.P.S. Deo

2001. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. 238 Tantric tradition in our country is quite rich, and wonderful with an eventful history. Still, there has been a dearth of good books on this subject in English. This study-with focus on Orissa-is a significant step in this direction. The original literature, on this subject-in Sanskrit and other classical language-is very vast and one has to probe for various authentic references. Here is a treasure in nutshell. This research based work fills a big vacuum, in order to quench the thirst of scholars and professionals, engaged in the discipline. About The Author:- Jitendra Parasad Singh Deo, is an individual archaeological field researcher, at Khariar, is credited with discovery of rock-shelter paintings of Yogimath Donger and Ghat Ghumar, Copper plates, gold coins of Sarabhapuriya dynasty, Clay Seal and Stone Seal of Panduvasmi dynasty, Kalachuri Coins, terracottas, beads and sculptures of many type. With the presentation of his findings, "Khariar Branch Museum" was opened by Govt. of Orissa in 1976. His findings were also presented to "Dr. N.K. Sahu Museum," of Sambalpur University and Orissa State Museum. Again with his efforts "Manikyapur Meseum," was started at Bhawanipatna in 1994. J.P. Singh Deo is life member of...
