Excerpt: . . . threatening on the other, the issue should have turned out as it did. Rome, awaking at last to her danger, met the Reformation with four weapons--a counter-reformation, j-1 j. i T. . . , t The means of an increased vigour in the Inquisition, the resistance institution of the Jesuits, and a greater em-medtoby bellishment of worship. The disposition of the northern nations was to a simplification of worship, that of the south to adorn it with whatovor could captivate the senses. Ranke asserts that the composition of the mass of Marcellus by Palestrina, 1560, had a wonderful effect in the revival of religion; there can be no doubt that it constituted an epoch in devotion. But of all A counterthese, the first and best was a moral change reformation, which she instantly imposed upon herself. Henceforth it was her intention that in...
