Poet Irving Layton 's letters may be strong-flavored & acerbic . or juicy & enjoyable . depending on whether they were written in the heat of the moment . or after careful reflection . They might be savoured; or hurled at a Philistine . These eminently readable letters show Layton in every mood . audacious, pugnacious, celebratory, condemnatory, playful, thoughtful . They span 50 years , dating from the 1930s and deal with every major Canadian poet in that period . as well as figures in politics . academe . & the media . They have been selected from more than 4000 pages of correspondence . with hundreds of different people . Layton expresses himself very directly in his letters . they reveal him as a poet intensely concerned with ideas . as well as language . as a teacher encouraging emerging...
